Quick facts

 Company:	City of Brussels
 Sector:	Education, Culture & Sport
 Product / service:	Website
 Type of data:	Geodata and cultural open data
 Origin:	Brussels, Belgium

Description

The City of Brussels promotes several routes to find street artworks through the Street Art Trail. The Street Art Trail has its own website, but also has references on the official website of the City of Brussels. The website is available in English, French, and Dutch. The routes along street artworks are promoted alongside other cultural events in the city centre, such as the yearly museum night. The street artworks vary in style as some paintings create a 3D effect.

Benefits

The City of Brussels promotes contemporary art and stimulates people to do some physical activity while exploring the city.

How open data is used

The City of Brussels provides visitors with different walking routes along street artworks with the use of geodata and cultural open data. Visitors can look up three different walking routes on the website, namely the 'Saint Catherine' route, the 'Main square' route and the 'Marolles' route.
