Description

iSofMap is a website that visualises cadastral and spatial information and provides access to real estate data of the municipality of Sofia. The website also offers the possibility to contact various real estate services directly to make inquiries.

Benefits

The electronic map iSofMap allows user to view various types of information, such as the additional layers to the map, including:

- Administrative and general development maps;
- Cadastral registers and maps of restored property;
- Cultural moment locations; and
- Road infrastructures, for example bike lanes.

How open data is used

The cadastral, regulatory information and development plans for the region are obtained from public databases of the municipal company GIS-Sofia EOOD. These datasets are free to use for anyone and are accessible online.
