Quick facts

- Company: DOCTENA Germany GmbH
- Sector: Health
- Product / service: Website & Application
- Type of data: data on doctors' calendar information
- Origin: Germany

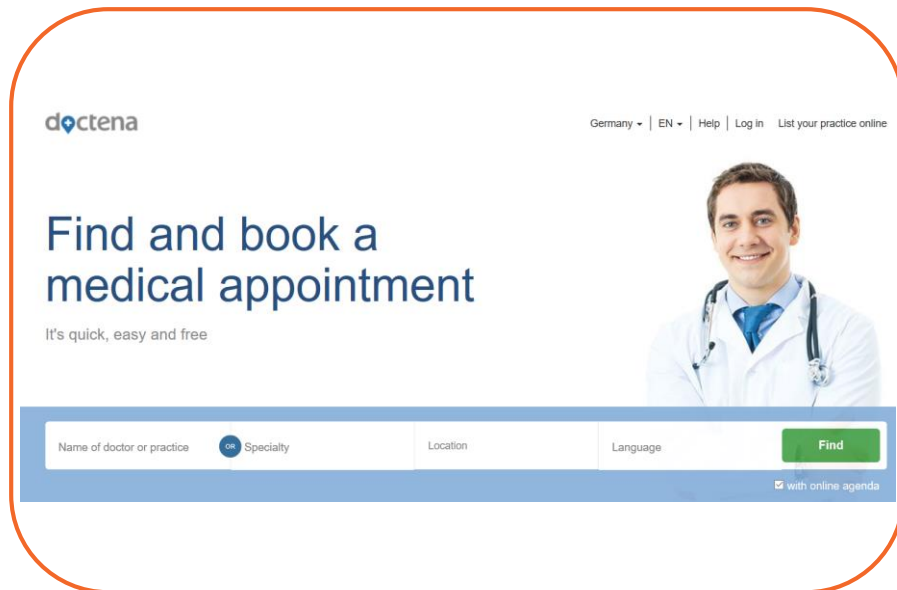

Description

Doctena provides real-time information on doctors' calendars to help patients make appointments at their respective doctors. Patients can either search for specific doctors or for a type of doctors and book appointments directly via the tool.

Benefits

- For patients that use doctena, it is easier and more convenient to book appointments online at all times.
- Doctors can optimise their visibility and decrease no-shows as appointments can also be cancelled online.
- Secretaries gain up to 30% of time as they do not need to make appointments at the telephone.

How open data is used

- Doctors and the practices provide data about their calendars to doctena.
- Doctena collects the provided data and prepares it to be used in the booking tool.
