Description

PWYP is an organisation that provides information on the revenues and governance structures of extractive industries like oil, gas, minerals and non-renewable resources. One of their example projects is the Open Mining application, which provides communities with information related to mining activities currently operating.

Benefits

PWYP provides transparency and accountability for the communities of Indonesia, counteracting corruption and societal conflicts.

How open data is used

PWYP's data shows if, and which type of, monetary transactions are conducted from the extractive companies to the government. PWYP has leveraged geospatial and map data from the Ministry of Energy and Mineral Resources of Indonesia and tax data from the Indonesian General Directorate of Tax of the Ministry of Finance.
