Description

The Transparency Portal aggregates health data from various entities across Portugal and makes these datasets available to the public. It aims to create transparency and increase efficiency in the national health service (NHS) and enable access to high-quality health data for institutions, citizens, and health professionals.

Benefits

In one easy-to-use interface, citizens can access information on health providers (e.g. locations of researching hospitals, health centers and pharmacies), user fees, cross-border healthcare, indications of waiting times. Moreover, institutions have access to documents on priority programs, reference centers, and several management tools.

How open data is used

The SNS Portal combines information published by various national health institutions and the SPMS (Shared Services of the Ministry of Health), which is publicly available.
