Red Digital de Colecciones de Museos de España

Description

Ceres is the online catalogue of the Digital network of Collections of Spanish Museums. In order to facilitate universal access to culture and to provide digital content online to citizens, the Ministry offers, for the first time, a unified access to cultural goods of Spanish museums, regardless of their thematic scope or of the institution they are run by. The platform works as a search tool to find cultural open data.

Benefits

- Museums can share knowledge on conservation, art and art history.
- The platform enhances digitalisation of cultural open data.
- The platform facilitates research because it enables a quick and easy way to search and find data.

How open data is used

Cultural open data is uploaded in the form of high-resolution art images. This platform enables users to search for cultural open data efficiently across connected museums in Spain. The platform is supported by the Spanish Ministry of Culture and Sports.
