Description

Proviso is a Kyiv-based start-up that has launched a platform that lets users prepare for litigation — a one-stop online environment for a lawyer. A legal professional can analyse legal precedents, search for normative legal acts, analyse a judge's approach to examining a specific category of cases, run a background check on an opponent or contracting party in the context of current or past court cases, monitor judicial proceedings and legal precedents.

Benefits

The project is collaborating with the Kyiv-Mohyla Academy showing great social impact on the promotion of the culture of digital technology usage in day-to-day work of legal practitioners.

How open data is used

The project makes use of open data and machine learning algorithms to create their services.
