Description

FoodTrade Menu helps small restaurants and caterers to create customer menus with the most up-to-date allergen information, so they can comply with Food Standards Agency regulations. In this, they collect data from food producers, growers, and government to produce tailored menus with flagged dishes and recipes that include all information related to 14 allergens.

Benefits

-  With FoodTrade Menu consumers have all information to make an informed choice about what they eat.
-  FoodTrade Menu enables small restaurants and caterers to receive the most up-to-date allergen information.

How open data is used

-  FoodTrade Menu collects data from food producers, growers, the government, and the Food Standards Agency.
-  They then prepare the data, so that people can use the website to create own menus and share them with the community.
