

URL <https://www.tableau.com/>

Quick facts

-  Company: Tableau
-  Sector: Science & Technology
-  Product / service: Website
-  Type of data: Public data
-  Origin: United States of America

Benefits

-  Tableau aims to assist people understand their data by producing interactive data visualisation products and systems.
-  Tableau has a mapping functionality that can plot latitude and longitude coordinates and connect to spatial files, such as from Esri and KLM, to display custom geography.

How open data is used

-  Tableau collects data from the client to analysis and create an interactive data visualisation product and system.
-  The collected data is stored in the software's in-memory data engine so users can have continued access and re-use the data.

Description

-  Tableau aims to support people in harnessing the power of data and unleashing its potential. The company has two available software's for users: one for individuals analysts and another for organisations.