TransitScreen
Company

URL	https://transitscreen.com/

Quick facts

- Company: TransitScreen
- Sector: Transport
- Product / service: Company
- Type of data: Transportation data
- Origin: United States of America

Benefits

- TransitScreen shows real-time information about transportation arrival in more than 700 locations in 30 cities in the United States of America.

How open data is used

- The company collects data from different transportation organisations about the arrival times of their trains, subways, buses, trams and ferries in 30 cities across the United States. In addition, the company collects data about local bike-sharing, car-sharing and ride-sharing services on the application.

Description

- TransitScreen is an American software company that offers software for digital displays in their application, TransitScreen. Their application shows the location of different modes of travels in the United States of America.